Reason/Rationale for the Warning – This will be posted publicly:

The proposed string (.000) is visually similar to the Australian Triple Zero Emergency Call Service (000), regulated by the Telecommunications Act 1997.

Without additional remediation measures, there is a risk that this proposed TLD could result in confusion for some consumers in life threatening situations. In this context, the Australian government would be interested to discuss with Infibeam Incorporation Limited ways to reduce any potential consumer confusion.

Early warnings provide a mechanism to initiate a discussion between a government and an applicant on particular issues or questions. It is intended that a constructive dialogue through this process will assist applicants to better understand the concerns of governments, and help governments to better understand the planned operation of proposed gTLDs.

Possible Remediation steps for Applicant – This will be posted publicly:

Infibeam Incorporation Limited should detail appropriate mechanisms to mitigate potential consumer confusion.

These mechanisms should form part of any binding contract with ICANN, and be subject to clear compliance oversight by ICANN.
