Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:25) Manuel no te escuchamos

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:25) no

cristina monti, ec: (19:26) cant hear

Manuel Haces (.MX): (19:27) OK, let

Manuel Haces (.MX): (19:27) me write it here

Manuel Haces (.MX): (19:27) we want the right to explicitly authorize the opening. The MX is .We want to be informed of any opening, and make sure both parties (ccTLD and the Government) give their approval to the opening. We asked for this on the consultation and our comment

Manuel Haces (.MX): (19:27) I'm so sorry for the failures on the audio

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:28) David it could be good if you can read the contribution by the colleague from Italy in the chat about the comments submitte

David Olive: (19:28) Thank you adding your question in the chat it is now clear what you are asking

David Olive: (19:28) Thank you Olga, I will do that

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:28) thanks

goran: (19:29) Can I make a comment about communications and information?

Olof Nordling: (19:29) Please do Goran!

Mark Carvell UK GAC rep: (19:30) It would be helpful if this call separates the two aspects: process and substance of the mitigation measures.

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:33) Regarding Measure 1 This measure is vague. It does not include any detail of the provisions that should be included by the Registry Operators and moreover it shifts the most part of responsibility to the Registrants. Regarding Measure 2: We don't believe that an ex-post measure can be appropriate and feasible for a government. And you should be mindful of governments limitation

Manuel Haces (.MX): (19:38) I would like to state, that I have made a great confusion, I thought this consultation was with the open community, and my comments might have been taken as if I were the GAC representative from Mexico. I would like to state my deepest regrets for this confusion, and make sure to state my comments as the ccTLD representative (.MX) and should not been taken as the GAC representative from Mexico.

David Olive: (19:39) Yes Manuel , thank you for that clarification (as ccTLD representative cristina monti, ec: (19:39) please note that the european commission has described its concerns on this matter and specifically as it concerns the use of .eu in a survey collected by the gac secretariat. others have also responded to that survey. maybe results should be circulated as they offer good description of the various concerns

cristina monti, ec: (19:40) both on process and substance

goran: (19:44) May I ask a follow question?

David Olive: (19:46) The representative from Brazil is next

David Olive: (19:46) and the representative from Argentina after that

Thomas Schneider: (19:51) after a lot of exchange about process, maybe we should spend the remaining time on the substantive issues...

David Olive: (19:51) Thank you THomas, yes we will turn attention to substantive issues

Maura Gambassi - ITALY: (19:51) Regarding the actual process: It was clear to the Board that the sense of the advice was that government would like to decide on the issue. If you read the Board scorecard posted on December 2016 you can verify that the Board was aware that there is GAC "consensus" that every country should have a say in that issue. The Hyderabad Resolution in November 2016 and its implementation in December 2016 runs counter the advice. it seems to us that GAC advice was not clearly taken into account in that case. We think that ICANN Switched to PATH 1 (slide 4) to PATH 2 even if it was clear to ICANN that governments want to have a say in this. But we agree with our colleagues from Brazil and Argentina that now it's important to find a way forward.

Manal Ismail - Egypt: (19:52) Just to re-iterate my comments in writing: On the process aspect il bellieve there was a disconnect, which I believe took place right after the public comment .. On the substance side, measure 1. is voluntary hence cannot be counted on; measure 2. is an excellent one yet a bit vague in terms of implementation; and measure 3. moves the burden from the registry to the govenments, without guarantees .. But it's important that we work constructively and find a way forward ..

Mark Carvell UK GAC rep: (19:55) Agree with your comments, Manal.

Mark Carvell UK GAC rep: (19:57) Next step after this call?

Manal Ismail - Egypt: (19:58) +1 Mark .. It's important to agree on next steps ..

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:58) can we have the slide please?

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:59) thanks to all very constructive dialogue

Olga Cavalli - GAC Argentina 2: (19:59) bye!

David Olive: (19:59) Thank you ALL

Mark Carvell UK GAC rep: (19:59) Many thanks, Goran and all colleagues for informaiton and comments. Look forward to hearign second call outcomes.

Manal Ismail - Egypt: (19:59) Thank you very much Goran, Akram, David and everyone on the call for the constructive dialogue ..
